The girl traveled to the cook shop to get the ingredients for a cherry pie.

When the shop was closed, she decided the country to gather the ingredients to make a cherry pie.

The girl traveled to a coal mine on the border of Ohio and Pennsylvania. She gathered coal which she would use to make steel for the pie pan.
In Louisiana the girl ate gumbo for lunch. She then gathered cotton to use to make a pot holder.

She traveled to New Mexico to gather clay. The clay is needed to make a mixing bowl.

Her next stop was Washington. The girl went into a forest and found a branch. She used the branch to make a rolling pin.
The girl took a ship to Hawaii where she gathered a bucket of sand. The sand was needed to make glass measuring cups.

In New Hampshire the girl gathered granite to make a pastry slab for making the pie crust.

Her next stop was Texas where she got oil from an oil field. The oil was needed to make plastic spoons for mixing.
After flying over Mount Rushmore and stopping for a visit in Alaska, the girl traveled back to her home.

The girl used the resources she had gathered to make the tools she needed to make a cherry pie.
