This image shows a blank sheet of lined paper. The paper is white and features a dashed black border. Inside the border, there are seven horizontal black lines, evenly spaced, which create a writing area. The lines are solid and extend across the width of the page. The top and bottom portions of the page are empty, while the middle portion is defined by the seven lines.

The image shows a rectangular frame defined by a dashed black border. Inside the frame, there are four solid horizontal lines positioned near the bottom edge, creating a space for writing or drawing. The rest of the frame is empty.

This image shows a blank sheet of primary-ruled paper. The page is enclosed in a dashed rectangular border. The main body of the page is divided into five horizontal writing sections. Each section consists of three lines: a solid top line, a dashed midline, and a solid bottom line. The top half of the page is completely blank, while the bottom half contains these five sets of lines.
