Directions for Adding a Character Photo or Photo Album:

Think about your character. If he/she were to post a photo to Facebook of something important, family-related or fun...what would it be?

Plan out the details of the picture in your mind before you begin. Will there be other people in the photo? Where will the setting of the picture be and why is it important in the story you read?

Be sure to add a descriptive caption to the picture including where it was taken, who is in it and how the character feels about the photo.

If you have more than one idea for a photo your character would post, then create a photo album of smaller pictures that would have all been taken in the same spot.

Perhaps the album might show different characters that your character was with doing different things, but still in the same setting and at the same time.
