

Husband Tips for Cleaning the Home

For when your husband claims...

You have too many rules! How can I ever remember them!?!

The cleaning pads for the Shark mop are NOT disposable. (But don't forget to throw away the ones for the Swiffer!)

To REALLY dust, you must pick up the items you are dusting around.

Lift the toilet seat to clean. A quick wipe on top does not count as cleaning.

The shower curtain's job is not to hide a messy tub, please make sure the shower is scrubbed on the inside before declaring the bathroom clean.

Just because the floor looks clean, it does not mean it does not need mopped once a week.

When doing laundry, if you are not sure – use cold water, dry on low or don't dry at all! When you decide to not dry an item of clothing – use a hanger to hang it up. Letting it dry in a pile will result in a wrinkled mess.
