Name: _____________________________________

Just a Spoonful of...

Directions: As you explore, record your observations.

- There are ______ teaspoons in a tablespoon.
- There are ______ teaspoons in 3 tablespoons.
- There are ______ ½ teaspoons in a teaspoon.
- There are ______ ½ tablespoons in a tablespoon.

Think about it...

What did you notice about most of your measurements?

________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________

What are some things you might use measuring spoons to measure when you are cooking at home?

________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________

© www.thecurriculumcorner.com