

Traditional Literature

Traditional literature is a story from a long time ago that has been told over and over again. These are fairy tales, folktales, legends, fables, tall tales and myths from different cultures.

